Sportsmen's Club of Fort Worth Legacy Projects

The Sportsmen's Club of Fort Worth dedicates its resources to many different local philanthropic causes across the community each year. Of its many unique and generous contributions, four tremendous legacy projects were recently completed at Camp El Tesoro, YMCA Camp Carter, the Pythian Home, and Camp John Marc to enhance underprivileged youth involvement and appreciation of wildlife and outdoor activities.

Camp John Marc

Where children with chronic medical and physical challenges wouldn't typically be able to enjoy a relaxing day casting fishing rods into a lake or a peaceful night laughing themselves to sleep beneath a starlit sky, the fishing pier at Camp John Marc allows these dreams to become a reality. Each of the 39 different sessions Camp John Marc offers hosts a new medical care team that is familiar with the children attending that session and trained to tend to their specific diagnoses. For many of the children who come off of the bus at Camp John Marc, it's their first time being away from their families since receiving their diagnoses. Campers arrive timid, nervous and hesitant to engage in activities with other children. However, in just 4 to 5 days, they become remarkably more independent and responsible, learn lifelong skills for self-care, and thrive together in outdoor activities, such as fishing off of the renovated pier. Although each group of campers has different medical and physical challenges, the advanced features of the updated fishing pier at Camp John Marc allow all of the children to comfortably participate in fishing sessions or outdoor campouts instead of otherwise missing out like they had to in the past.

Partially funded by the Sportsmen's Club of Fort Worth, the revamped fishing pier replaces the previous small wooden structure with a strategically designed well-built jetty, complete with bright lights that illuminate the area during nighttime fishing and a shaded area to protect fishermen and women from heavy rainstorms and the strong summer sun. Children who use electricity-powered machines to manage their diagnoses, like BiPAP breathing machines or peritoneal dialysis machines for example, are now able to lay next to new friends on sleeping bags on cool summer nights, connect with each other over their similar experiences, and teach one another about shooting stars and constellations. The carefully constructed fully accessible pier allows children who use wheelchairs to navigate the dock more easily and significantly improves their entire fishing experience. The advanced designed railings have the ability to drop to lower heights, showing children that the thrilling view of their first catch splashing below the water doesn't have to be restricted by the footplates of their wheelchairs. The magnificent multi-purpose fishing pier has a spot for everyone, quite literally, to find long-lasting self-confidence and responsibility that follows them throughout their lives.

Camp El Tesoro

Between hikes in nature trails surrounded by birds and butterflies and sleepovers on the swinging bridge above Fall Creek, campers at El Tesoro can now also enjoy the two new archery ranges donated by the Sportsmen's Club of Fort Worth. Camp El Tesoro offers many opportunities throughout the year to both children and adults, including family camping, spring break events, outdoor education lessons, and even a unique one-week program to help children grieving the loss of a family member. The addition of the two new archery ranges gives all of these campers the opportunity to unplug from technology, escape from stress, and practice a sport that promotes socialization, growth, and self-confidence.

Where some campers find it hard to enjoy or succeed in other sports, the archery ranges have shown to encourage confidence and performance satisfaction, proving that technique can be just as important as strength. One 12-year-old boy at Camp El Tesoro had low self-esteem about his size and struggles with other activities at camp, like climbing the ropes challenge course and kayaking the river. However, once he arrived at the archery ranges his face immediately lit up and he felt a fresh opportunity for change. Here, he realized that he did not need to be the biggest and strongest camper to succeed. By learning the proper techniques and practicing in the covered area under the eye of a watchful and supportive instructor, he safely and quickly became one of the top archers and regained his lost self-esteem. Not only do the archery ranges bring campers' like him long-lasting skills of coordination and focus, but also the gift of confidence that they will carry throughout their lifetimes and the memory of hitting their first bullseye.

YMCA Camp Carter

The addition of two spectacular archery ranges makes a wonderful impact on the entire outdoor experience for children and their families at YMCA Camp Carter. With the considerable donations made by the Sportsmen's Club of Fort Worth, the archery area was able to transform from just a bale of hay with a red spray-painted dot in the center and a few arrows laying in a bucket, to a truly phenomenal and impressive space. Complete with two state-of-the-art ranges and an efficiently designed equipment closet, the generous contributions make archery a more structured and rewarding experience for eager campers.

Whether it's campers during the summer, families for a fun camp out, or 5th-grade students for their outdoor education lessons, everyone who spots the large, brightly painted traditional targets or the five-foot-tall dinosaur targets at the ginormous and clean arena instantly becomes enthusiastic and animated. Campers who previously had to wait in long lines only to participate for a few seconds at a time can now swiftly walk right up to their own personal shooting lanes and proceed at their own pace under supervision, after a detailed talk with the range safety officer first, of course! Campers who previously felt rushed and restricted by the old archery set-up are now able to get more substantial practice time in at a sophisticated range. Children see that they can improve their skills and learn faster with the new design, showing them how patience, hard work, and practice makes positive results right away. With these new archery ranges, Camp Carter has the resources to safely and properly able to train the next generation of talented archers and outdoor enthusiasts in this extraordinary and well-kept area.

Texas Pythian Home

The Texas Pythian Home houses more than 60 children who come from families of unfortunate circumstances such as abuse, divorce, and chemical dependency to foster growth and development in a caring and safe environment. Its lake lot on Lake Weatherford has been a special spot for the children in the Pythian Home to learn about wildlife and the outdoors, and for children and families to enjoy quiet weekend getaways and unique lively slumber parties. However, over the years the cabin became worn out and in need of a long-overdue gutting and remodel to offer its full potential to children and families. With the recent cabin renovations and the added donation of a brand-new fishing dock, the lake lot now has more opportunities than ever for families and friends to spend safe and exciting fun together and make unforgettable memories thanks to the contributions of the Sportsmen's Club of Fort Worth.

The fishing dock encourages children and adults to put away their cell phones and take in the fresh air and beautiful scenery. Visitors can now take higher advantage of the prime property location on Lake Weatherford by safely getting up close to wildlife and animals via the well-built handrails and sturdy fishing platform. By visiting the fishing pier, families have a new opportunity for teaching their young ones how to fully appreciate and understand nature and practice patience, being present, and bonding with one another. Although families and friends might only visit for one or two nights, the moments shared at the cabin and fishing dock become precious memories for storytelling or special traditions for years to come.

Through its donations of renovations, fishing docks, and archery ranges, the mission of the Sportsmen's Club of Fort Worth to teach and inspire involvement in outdoor activities becomes more attainable in youth community now and for many, many years to follow.

The Keller High School Archery Team

The Keller High School Archery Team has been expanding rapidly and is becoming one of the most recognized archery clubs in the DFW area, thanks to the SCFW grant. This year alone, over 40 Keller High students were introduced to archery through the Club and their skills are quickly improving. The official competitive season starts January 25 with our State Qualifier tournament. This tournament will be KHS Archery Club's largest tournament hosted with over 200 students already committed to compete. Preparation for the Club's 3D tournament is also underway. Targets and the needed supplies have been ordered and Club officers are working on locking in a date. In addition to the two tournaments we're hosting, we plan to attend other tournaments, including the Texas State Competition. Many students are now shooting well above the predicted average to qualify for State and look forward to a busy competitive season. Students have also been introduced to the Texas Field Archery Association to show them archery exists outside of NASP and to help create a lifelong love of the sport. With many of the current student officers graduating this year, new student officers have been elected and will soon begin training to ensure the Club is sustained for many years to come. All of this has only been possible due to the generosity and support of the Sportsmen's Club of Fort Worth. On behalf of the members of the Keller High School Archery Club, thank you for your donations. – Malachi H.

The Sportsmen's Club of Fort Worth Takes Aim at Camp El Tesoro

Last year, more than 8,000 adults and youth cycled through Camp Fire Camp El Tesoro's archery ranges. From the traditional summer camp, to family camping weekends and school or corporate groups, archery is one of the more popular activity choices. Archery is a lifetime sport. As more schools and colleges offer archery programs, it is a great addition to any outdoor-focused program to have a strong archery component and as a result is in high-demand by visitors to the property.

Thanks to the generous gift from the Sportsmen's Club of Fort Worth, El Tesoro's capacity and access to this popular activity has expanded. The new ranges are set up for ten targets at each range. The biggest impact for both school groups visiting the Texas Outdoor Education Center and summer campers is they will get to shoot more during the time they are at the range increasing their shooting time from 2 times in an hour up to five times in that same period.

Sportsmen's Club of Fort Worth Members joined Camp Fire board members and staff to dedicate the new archery ranges on October 2, 2019.

Malachi's Farm

When the kids of Rivertree Academy had their fall festival, Malachi's Farm was the perfect location. Thanks to a grant from the Sportsmen's Club, they had a blast catching fish until the sun went down. The Sportsmen's Club grant provided bass, bluegill, sunfish and catfish as well as feeders, aerators and habitats to create productive ponds for local children to enjoy. Malachi's Farm was once a golf course, but it has been re-purposed as a teaching farm for children and families. One of the first steps in its development was to transform the ponds from golf ball filled hazards into fruitful and productive homes for multiple fish varieties.

With help from pond management expert Walter Bassano a pond renovation strategy was created and implemented. This plan could not have happened without the generosity of the Sportsmen's Club. Thanks to this generous gift Fort Worth families are making memories together outside, young men in a work apprenticeship are able to camp and fish together, and children of all ages have a chance to experience nature and develop a love for the great outdoors. Thank you, Sportsmen's Club for helping us to raise up a new generation of young sportsmen and sportswomen.

The Fort Worth Claymores

The Fort Worth Claymores are a non-profit 501(c)3 under Fort Worth Youth Shooting Foundation that is dedicated to teaching youth about outdoor shooting sports.

With the help of the Fort Worth Sportsmen's Club, we have been able to introduce over 250 kids to shooting sports which include Shotgun and Pistol disciplines. Participants are from the Fort Worth area and include shooters from the DFW high schools and middle schools, 4H and FFA.

Instruction is provided by Head Coach, Roger Guerra, and 9-10 competitions are held at local area gun clubs to support this effort. Kids range in age from 9-18 years of age and we prepare competitors to compete at the college level with ACUI (Associate College Unions International). Some shooters have received scholarships to provide them a means of affording college. Levels of shooting expertise include Intermediate competitors 6th - 8th grade, Junior Varsity competitors- 1st year at high school level and Varsity competitors- high school 2nd year.

Interested parties should contact the Head Coach, Roger Guerra at 817-371-7666.

The 2020 Wild Game Dinner & Auction
