111. Private Land Quail Hunt on Historic Panhandle Britain-Lazy E Ranch

Four to six (4-6) hunters will be allowed access to this historic ranch in the heart of Panhandle quail country. This semi-guided two to three (2-3) day hunt takes place on the Britain-Lazy E Ranch. The historic working cattle ranch boasts large bountiful pasture lands for Bobwhites and Blues and has never been commercially hunted. The ranch is home to the notorious town of Signal Hill where outlaws including Bonne and Clyde visited from time to time. The Texas Rangers closed the town down in 1928, but remains of the town are still visible. The ranch headquarters is the oldest house in the county and where famous cattleman Colonel Bugbee had a dugout and hid from Comanches when they attacked. The Sportsmen's Club is honored to have this ranch open up and auctioned off to one lucky bidder and their friends. The ranch is located near Stinnett, Texas and run by the 6th generation landowner. Meals and lodging are not included, but available in Borger, Texas; however, the historic ranch headquarters might be available depending on landowner's schedule. This hunt is to be taken in 2022 or 2023 at a mutually agreeable date and time with landowner. Donated by Keitha Britain

As old as the Sportsmen's Club itself (I bet Mr Tension had one) this Pre 64 Model 70 in 270 Winchester was manufactured between 1950 and 1951 with some unique features like inletted sling swivels and inletted checkered metal but plate this one is way beyond vintage. While the scope was "Modernized" at some point to a Weaver K4 E with internal adjustments the rifle still has true to era externally adjustable mounts. This rifle has some beauty marks so be sure to take a look, but it will bring back the nostalgia of hunting with the old man. Even if you are one. Donated by Alpine Range

220. FabArms L4S 12ga Sporting

If you believe a semi-automatic target shotgun should point and balance like a fine double gun with perfect balance and weight distribution, then the L4S is the gun you have been waiting for. The magazine is shortened to a four round capacity to reduce the length of the fore-end for improved balance. The L4S does not have an action spring in the stock and attaches with a simple stock bolt. This feature allows us to sculpt the pistol grip to eliminate the awkward feeling that affects many semi-auto shotguns. Because the L4S is designed for 2 3/4"
